

eLearning: Regulation of Dietary Supplements and NHPs

Art. ID	USP-RAPS-05
Unit	Each
Deliverydetails	No Dangerous Good

Description

Both dietary supplements and Natural Health Products (NHPs) have specific regulatory requirements that cover most aspects of formulation, labeling, claims substantiation, Good Manufacturing Practices, and adverse event monitoring and reporting. Manufacturers and distributors of dietary supplements and NHPs must clearly understand their responsibilities to ensure their products are fully compliant with all applicable regulations. This course provides an overview of the regulatory requirements for dietary supplements in the United States and NHPs in Canada.
